THE MANNERISM AND THE BAROQUE STYLES

The Department of Cultural Affairs yearly opens an exhibition celebrating the World Heritage Day. The Direction of Services of Cultural Heritage has conceived a display under the theme of two great art movements: the Mannerism and the Baroque. "Get acquainted with Cultural Heritage: The Mannerism and the Baroque styles – From modest movements to exuberant volumes" opens on April 18th at the Sala dos Arcos - Colégio dos Jesuítas and may be visited until the 17th of June.

The exhibition aims to highlight the potential of local Heritage as a privileged instrument of our educational system in the development of its student's knowledge and skills.

The exhibition is divided in two parts. A theoretical one, linked to the framework of the seasons and concepts of both artistic styles, and a practical one, where visitors can apply the concepts previously explained.

The International World Heritage Day was created by ICOMOS (International Council on Monuments and Sites) on April 18th of 1982 and approved by the UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) in the following year. This celebration aims to raise public awareness towards the diversity and vulnerability of cultural assets, as well as the effort involved in its protection and preservation.

"BLUE REMEMBERED HILLS"

After being on the stage of the National Theatre D. Maria II, the play by the English dramatist Dennis Potter premières in Madeira at the congress centre of Porto Santo Island, and a few days later at the Casa das Mudanças Arts Center, in Calheta.

The original "Blue Remembered Hills", tells a story about childhood, namely, «the land of lost content» as written in the lyrics of A.E. Housman, which grant a theme to the play.

Willie, Peter, John, Raymond, Donald, Angela and Audrey are seven friends who usually play in the woods, near the village where they live during the summer holidays. They play wars, parents, squirrel hunt, nurses and doctors.

Beatriz Batarda is the stage director of this text, considered to be shocking and simultaneously touching, in which adult actors play a group of children that discover the violence of the world around them and try to understand it by imitating the reality of adults.

Albano Jerónimo, Bruno Nogueira, Dinarte Branco, Elsa Oliveira, Leonor Salgueiro, Luísa Cruz and Nuno Nunes are the actors performing these seven friends.

"I AM THEM!!!"

"we do about everything to pay the rent, don't we?"

Eduardo Gaspar returns to the Municipality of Culture with the comedy "I am them – we do about everything to pay the rent, don't we?" - An initiative that has been held side by side with the Municipality of Culture project, since its take off in 2007 at Ponta do Sol.

What happens when a maid convinces her own boss on the eve of his première that he's a terrible actor? He kills himself? Dismisses the employee? Or simply does not show up on at the theatre and without his awareness provides her with an opportunity to take his place in the play "I am them – we do about everything to pay the rent, don't we?"

This is the story of Lucineide (the name of the dangerous employee), who was once an actress and had the guts to do anything to discourage her boss from performing, exclusively for the opportunity of going back on stage. She is certain about her talent and that success results from a combination of innate abilities with a large share of luck.
