COFFEE FLAVOURED POETRY

To celebrate the World Poetry Day the Department of Cultural Affairs and its Direction of Services for Cultural Development, promote the Poetry Week from the 21st to the 26th of March.

This anniversary celebrated on the 21st of March, as initially established in the 30th Unesco's General Conference, held on the 16th of November 1996, aims to promote poetry reading, writing, editing and teaching throughout the world.

Following the above guidelines the initiative "Coffee flavoured poetry" main purpose is to enhance the global acquaintance on poetry as well as the reading of contemporary Madeiran authors, through a simple and daily social act, as the act of drinking a coffee. Different coffee-shops in downtown Funchal will be participating in this event, offering a poem to all its clients from March 21st to 26th, in a circuit that goes from Arriaga Avenue, Rua do Aljube, Colombo Square, Carmo Square, Rua Fernão Ornelas as far as the Mercado dos Lavradores.

This initiative has the institutional partnership of the Regional Secretariat for Education and Culture, Department of Cultural Affairs, Madeira's Department of Artistic Education, ACIF Funchal (Association for Trade and Industry) and CRIAMAR Association

Note: All poems offered will be from Portuguese contemporary poets and exclusively in Portuguese.

TO CROSS THE DESERT OF THE WORLD WITH YOU

Heading out to Ribeira Brava and having as destination the Madeira Ethnographic Museum, here is a suggestion to attend an exhibition on contemporary arts and crafts in Madeira, a work that is the outcome of a Master's Thesis by the the Madeiran Mirla Fernandes.

The theme of the exhibition is based on a poem by the late Portuguese contemporary poet Sophia de Mello Breyner: "To cross the desert of the World with you". From this verse, the artisans develop three different individual works that will ultimately become one, a ring, in which are inlaid each artisan's work, as if they were precious stones. The final result symbolizes the artisan's union through adversity.

The artisans taking part in this display are: Carmen Molina, Susana Ornelas, Helena Alencastre, Luz Ornelas, Orlando Góis, Tânia Nobrega, Auoa Handmade, Paula and Duarte Gomes, Maria Jaime Freitas and Madalena Freitas. Open until April 30th.

THE MANDRAKE

This month it's also celebrated the World Theatre Day, on March 27th and with the purpose of not leaving this ephemeris behind, the highlight goes to the new play by the Teatro Experimental do Funchal, based on the text of Niccolò Machiavelli and staged by Eduardo Luiz. "The Mandrake" is a play written by the Italian dramatist, Niccolò Machiavelli, which was first printed in 1524.

The play's main theme is the passion of Callimachus, a young Florentine, who in consequence of a bet, falls madly in love with a married woman, whose major wish is to have a son. In order to win her heart he decides to masquerade as a doctor and convince her husband to drug her with the aphrodisiac plant mandrake, claiming that it will increase her fertility. This satirical play is considered to be a reference in western theater. Machiavelli deconstructs the passionate conquest, as a pretext to develop an opportune treaty on political strategy and the art of engaging, manipulating and convincing, and ultimately achieving a certain goal.

To watch "The Mandrake" may be watched on March 25th, 26th, 27th and 31st at the Santo António movie-theatre.
