CARNIVAL

The magic, the colour and fun are back! The month of February presents us another joyous occasion that delights all of those who visit the island in this time of the year: Carnival.

This year, fantasy and fun appear once again side by side at the sound of samba and under the zodiac thematic.

In Funchal, on the night of February 18th it's time for the Great Allegoric Parade, which this year has a different itinerary. All carnival groups will concentrate at the Praça da Autonomia and taking off from there, along the Avenida do Mar e das Comunidades Madeirenses, Avenida Francisco Sá Carneiro and ending at the Praça do Mar.

On Shrove Tuesday, the 21st of February, it's time for the Fun Parade with lots of humour and satire, closing this year's celebrations.

The "Compadres" Festival, in Santana, is the first event on the 2nd weekend of February, marking the beginning of celebrations throughout the island.

INCUBADORA CRIATIVA

Carried out on the former year, the project Incubadora Criativa – Madeira's Young Art Creators Contest will be presenting its winner projects this month at the Centro Cívico do Estreito de Câmara de Lobos and Machico Forum.

In representation of each area in the contest, the jury focused its interest in some innovative ideas.

From plastic arts to cartoons, dance, graphic design, photography, it still embraces literature, fashion, music and video, representing the best of our young local artists.

More than motivate the regional artistic creation and production, this project offers to each candidate the opportunity to make their work known and culturally recognised.

RECREIO MUSICAL 99TH ANNIVERSARY CONCERT AT THE ENGLISH CHURCH

Almost ten decades of existence distinguished by rigour and professionalism in favour of art. Music has transformed this musical group, a regional reference with national and international projection.

The group's most visible musical expression is the Madeira Mandolin Orchestra, protagonist of hundreds of concerts in the region, in Portugal mainland and other European countries, where we can highlight, in 2002, the recital for the Queen of England Jubilee Celebrations, Elisabeth II, in Saint George's Chapel, Windsor. This group first started with the Associação Recreio Musical União da Mocidade in February 18th of 1913 in São Roque – Funchal.

The group gathers more than twenty local musicians, being the great majority of them, young musicians who studied music in the schools of the group. The Recreio Musical owns a vast musical heritage and carries out more than fifty concerts throughout the year, most of them performed at the English Church, in Funchal. In the late 1920's, the creativity and commitment of its conductor Ernesto Serrão, who managed the group from 1924 to 1935, contributed decisively for the Orchestra's qualitative reediting. Currently, the Orchestra is conducted by Maestro Eurico Martins.

To celebrate its 99th Anniversary, the Recreio Musical União da Mocidade will be performing a concert led by the Madeira Mandolin Orchestra at the English Church, in Funchal, on the 25th of February at 9pm.

AMO-TEATRO

From February 16th to 26th, the theatrical group of Casa do Povo da Camacha promotes the 3rd Edition of the Festival Amo -Teatro.

After two other editions, the Experimental Theatre of Camacha witnesses the notorious growth of this festival in terms of calendar and participations, extending itself to Machico Forum. This year's edition introduces several local amateur groups and some invited ones, with a special highlight for the group Comuna – Research Theatre, which is a nationally noteworthy and recognised group, established in the 70's by João Mota, who is the current director of the National Theatre D. Maria II.

In addition to the stage performances, the Festival also includes street theatre performances, a statue competition and a carnival ball.

BOOK PRESENTATION "FEBRUARY 20TH"

BY OCTÁVIO PASSOS

"The destruction was heartbreaking. The shades of the mud and rocks submerged the capital of the region, Funchal, leaving it unrecognizable, among some other cities and areas through the island, which have been devastated. The reports on the lost lives increased hour after hour. Most of the people were in fear because of their family and friends, the electricity and telephone lines were dead, making it more difficult to divulge and reach the news, and consequently, the situation became more dramatic and despairing, raising difficulties in terms of assistance to the ones in need and to all help requests.

Almost two years after, the reconstruction is noteworthy, but the wounds in the people's minds left by the destruction have no healing. To the victims, their families, friends, to the rescue teams and to all of those, who somehow have helped... this is a tribute to them... I want it to become part of our visual history, so that it may be part of everyone's memory and collective conscience."

Excerpt of the introductory note by Octávio Passos.
